*See explanation of the meaning of new categories Nuts & Bolts and Deep Cut.

For those new to this blog, you may not immediately understand why these receipts (emails) are being documented. We strongly suggest that you read this Statement by Mike McClaughry of 20 May 2023 (done just before we had to go live in our cars again and came very close to dying) and this blog post: The Simplicity of Scientology’s Fair Game on Declared Suppressive Persons to gain at least a beginning overview of these matters. You can also check out the Hitchhiker’s Guide to this blog, where quite a few posts there are also providing beginning documentation regarding just what lengths are gone to in order to silence people and why.

Scientology and Abortion

Posted on September 5, 2010 by mcclaughry

I have been seeing quite a bit of tabloid PR on the subject of scientology and abortion on the Internet lately, alleging "coerced abortions", and "forced abortions" of women in the Sea Organization. I was in the Sea Organization between ... Continue reading →

@24:00 Dana: don't understand why people state specifically that the McClaughry's deserve to be homeless, that they've burned their bridges, do you see, does this give you a really good example of what "the burnt bridge" is? Cuz I hope that everybody gets, excuse my language, the fucking point by now…referring to the women who want to come at me [Virginia note: that's probably Nora she's referring to] that's a bridge that is a righteous anger to burn down

Dana repeats Audra P live chat comment "They did, they burnt the bridge to lies." "They burnt the bridge to lies… ffs. Because they tell the truth they deserve to be homeless…"

Dana later in video: I don't have a price. I'm here for the truth.

A link Dana put in the chat educating people about Scientology's TRs –

Training Routines

Training routines (more commonly known as TRs) are drills that done over and over and over again until the Scientologist can do them without hesitation, stuttering or thinking. The Scientological theory behind them is to allow auditors to better audit, to not let them be distracted with pc 'originations' (a statement or remark that isn't … Continue

she would be segregated, 00:09
not allowed to speak with her husband, 00:12
put under security watch,
00:13
put on heavy manual labor,
00:15
and interrogated for.
00:17
For her crimes
00:18
as to why she wanted to leave.
00:21
Because the reality was,
00:22
getting pregnant meant you wanted to leave.
00:24
That's exactly right,
00:25
yes. At one point,
00:26
I made a list of all the people I absolutely knew 00:30
had had abortions,
00:31
and it was more than 50 women.

00:33
Some of them had had up to six.
00:36
The truth of the matter is,
00:38
it is a mortal sin to get pregnant as a co member, 00:42
because that means 00:43
you will have to leave the SEA organization 00:45
and thereby break your billionaire contract.
00:49
I absolutely swore that I would never have an abortion.
00:54
I wanted kids.
00:55
But next thing I know,
00:56
I missed a period,
00:58
so I have to go see the medical officer.
01:00
She had me do the test with her there, 01:03
and sure enough, 01:04

it was positive.

01:05

And she said, well,

01:06

you’re gonna need to get an abortion.

01:08

Basically, the sentiment there is,

01:10

get over it,

01:11

get back to work.

01:12

And meanwhile,

01:13

inside, I’m dying.

01:14

Of course, you know,

01:16

it’s just, you know,

01:18

worst fear come true. Yeah.

01:21

Some wounds you can’t heal.

01:24

Yeah, of course.

01:26

Yes, I can go. Well,

01:27

now I have three beautiful children who are my life.

01:32

But it doesn't Make it easier to deal with. It doesn't make it any easier. Ever.

Dana did not have transcripts enabled on her video reading my content so here is a free online AI generated transcript. It's definitely not perfect and not formatted pretty much at all but it's a start until I come up with something better.

Hello. Hello. Hi. Thank you guys so much for being here. So today, because this is a serious topic, not that other topics aren't serious, but I know that people some people might get upset about what I'm talking about.

I'm not going to engage with the chat too much. I will absolutely read everyone's questions afterwards. I just want to show you guys the blog. I want to show you guys two things outside of the blog as well. And I've already, you know, talked to Virginia.

So we've agreed she's okay with me running, my MK sort of video specifically because, you know, we're gonna be discussing.

I'm not making any allegations that people are lying. I'm just asking everyone to consider, some of the things that have been said because I do think that the truth is important, you know, especially with such a serious topic, because I don't know. It's you guys know how I feel about it, so let's just go. Okay.

So, obviously, this is lies, lockstep, and the x Scientology community talking about the McClaughrys blog. Right?

Because you guys have seen some of you guys have been, ballsy enough to go into other live streams and ask specifically, in regards to the McClaughrys and their situation.

> [My note: One person being referred to by Dana there goes by a number of monikers, one of which is Gina G.]

It's generally a lockstep response and that's why I put lockstep. So everybody moving in synchronicity.

Right? Well, we are told that they burned their bridges. That's what some people say. Or it's complicated. Their living situation was complicated.

There's anonymous accounts that have, said that it's complicated. They leave out a lot of the details specifically, like, attempts that have been taken on the McLaurys' lives, and people that they have lost, loved ones that they have lost. Some really dark stuff that a lot of people don't know. You guys have no idea. But today, specifically, this topic is going to be I put the parental advisory warning.

It is what it is. If you have delicate ears, fragile sensibilities, please don't watch. This is going to be about the topic of what some people call forced abortions within Scientology. Again, I am not calling anybody a liar, and I'm not. But I am asking everyone specifically to consider what forced means.

And while some of the ex Scientology community can say that the McClaughrys deserve to be homeless, you know, they wrote mean things and something about, you know, Hubbard in a space opera. Right?

> [my note: Dana is referring to Nora Sova Ames – see Nora Sova Ames receipts post for more]

Something completely ridiculous and stupid, especially when we've seen other ex Scientologists like the Black Widow art dealer provocateur, speaking very highly of the late L. Ron Hubbard.

> [my note: Dana is referring to Karen de la Carriere there]

We're gonna read through this blog.

K? That's what we're gonna do.

This was sent to me by Virginia as a Word document, and I also have a screenshot of where it is in the archive. Okay? That way nobody can sit here and say that I'm gatekeeping from her coming on here because that's not true.

That's just not true. Then I'm gonna show you guys a clip of Leah Romini on Joe Rogan not using the word forced because, again, words matter, especially if you are, attempting to garner sympathy. I'm just saying. Are some of the stories a bit exaggerated? Don't know.

Don't know. And this blog is pretty old, so let's go ahead and get this popped open. And here we go. Let me make sure that this is popping up for you guys. Okay.

So Scientology and Abortion by Virginia

McClaughry, July twenty third two thousand ten.

Dana: Let me see if I can make this bigger. That way you guys can see it.

Dana reading:

I have been seeing quite a bit of tabloid PR on the subject of Scientology and abortion on the Internet lately, alleging coerced abortions and forced abortions of women in the Sea Organization. I was in the Sea Org between 1978 and 1983, and I would like to share my experience on this subject.

At the age of 16, I married William Elliot Rhodes or Bill Rhodes in 1979. He was in charge of the Telex Receipt and Processing Unit of the Flag Bureau, international management of the Church of Scientology, where I also worked. I became pregnant that same year, and at this time, there were no orders of no kids. The second time I became pregnant was in 1981. And at that time, there was a non L. Ron Hubbard no kids issue in place written by some woman stating that women who became pregnant were to be sent to outer organizations to be staff instead, although still c org members.

Being an independent sort and also product two hatted and full hatted for my job at the time,

Dana: I have no idea what that means guys. I'm sorry. I know that that's like Scientology ranking stuff.

Dana continues reading:

I refused to have anything to do with this illegal order.

I simply went about my job in external communications and successfully had finances approved by the financial planning committee for my prenatal care. The woman who was involved with getting the issue enforced later tried to threaten and intimidate me the best she could, but I held my ground.

After this truly disgusting display by this woman, I told my husband, mark my words, she will get pregnant next, and that'll be the end of this push for now, which is exactly what happened. The irony of that was truly satisfying, I don't mind saying. So that kind of took the wind out of the sails of that first move regarding no more children in the sea org.

I had my child and stayed on my post on my same post. No problem. The important fact is that there was no force to get an abortion. This would be literally tying someone up and hauling them off to be anesthetized against their will.

That's just plain bullshit, and I have to wonder just why these women on the Internet are trying to spin this in the way that they are.

I repeat, there were pressure and intimidation tactics most definitely, but that's not the same thing as forced or coerced, both of which implying being physically overcome. These women killed their unborn unborn children of their own free will. And although David Miscavige, Marty Rathbun, and Mike Rinder were truly monstrous men to have in any way promulgated abortions, the fact remains that these women blaming David Miscavige for their carrying out the killing of their own child is just as monstrous to me.

These women in the Sea Org decided to get an abortion and now blame David Miscavige for the pressure and intimidation to do so. I, who was also in the c org, did not decide to get an abortion despite pressure and intimidation to do so.

See the difference? On the subject of doing terrible things to families that you can't blame on David Miscavige, that brings me to the subject of Linda McCarthy and her husband David. David is now deceased. Linda McCarthy is now an independent Scientologist and supports Marty Rathbun and Mike Rinder.

Dana error: In ’19 oops, sorry.

Dana continues:

In 1983, I decided to route out of the Sea Org because it was time for my family and other loyalties to come first. I was already in the process of divorcing my husband due to his unforgivable behavior during the illness of my daughter, almost causing her death if I had listened to him, and his later attempt to strangle me to death when I confronted him on this point. Per Bill, Linda’s husband David told him I must be an SP or suppressive person because he, Bill, wanted to kill me. How’s that for a Scientology world nightmarish twist on things? Bill almost causes the death of his child.

I had to literally threaten him with the furies of hell before he takes my child and me to the doctor, and I get called an SP or suppressive person. The second time David McCarthy plied his wares was after I had standardly rooted out of the Sea Org and had made an arrangement with Bill that the kids would live with me. I went to California to get things started on living arrangements and then came back a couple months later to pick up my children. Bill was outwardly very friendly, helping me to pack up their things and offering to handle some things while they went to Albertsons to get some diapers. When I came back, the door was open.

Bill and the children were gone. I feel confident in saying that every mother out there will understand how I felt. It's a mother's worst nightmare. Her children gone, no idea where or if she'll ever see them again. This was one of the worst nights of my life.

I was up all night frantically searching for them, asking people if they had seen them, calling family, anything I could think of. Since I already knew Bill was capable of becoming unstable mentally, you can imagine what I thought. He's flipped. He's blown flag in Scientology. He could be anywhere.

But the worst thought was I'll never see my babies again. There is no thought more horrible to a mother. Around 5AM, a light went off in my head, and I suddenly knew what had happened. And who did it? David McCarthy.

To say I was angry would be a massive understatement. To get my babies back, I was ready to bring the fires of hell right to the church's door, and I knew just how to do it. Since I had worked in in external communications, I knew all the back channel ways of contacting various organizations around the flag base, like the Guardian's office, for example. As soon as I knew I could get a hold of the terminal in the guardian's office that I wanted to, I called the back channel line. I was short, concise, and deadly cold in my words to this person.

The long and the short of it was they had fifteen minutes to find my children and arrange to get them back to me, or I would not only call the police, I would call Bill's father, Judge Rhodes, who I knew would put his heavy pull and resources into action if it meant defending innocent children and publicly vilifying the Church of Scientology for partaking in such actions in the process. Sure enough, right on time, the guardian's office called back and the kids had been quote unquote found. Turns out they had been with David McCarthy and presumably Linda. Bill later told me that David McCarthy as well as HCO ethics terminals said that because I was a suppressive person, that I would take off with the kids and disappear, and this was the reason they should kidnap the kids and hide them until I gave up and left. Bill, to this day, is like a leaf in the wind when it comes to Scientology.

He goes where it blows him. No matter the cost to his personal integrity, let alone the well-being of his children. Anyone can see that the responsible parties in this black op against me in 1983 are a lot more than just David Miscavige. The responsible parties would be Bill, David, Linda, the Guardian's Office, OSA terminals involved, and the local HCO terminals involved. The last two being involved would automatically involve Marty Rathman, Mike Rinder, and David Miscavige as well.

This is the kind of vicious and oppressive acts towards families that people like Linda McCarthy and the Marty Rathbun independent Scientologist movement know about, say nothing, and take no responsibility for. Instead, what do they do? They blame they blame David Miscavige for their own behavior. Virginia McClaughry.

—Virginia note: end reading my 2010 blog post

Dana continued –

And here is a really fun collage that she made that is her with a fro and then see orc.

I love this picture so much. She's like styling and profiling. And right here, 1980 with her first born. And right here, she says yikes about her big glasses. I think that they're super cute and stylish, but I love these old photos.

They're very fun. And there she is in her sea org garb. And that is the end of the McClaughry's blog, specifically on that topic. So I don't know. I know those photos are so sweet.

They're my absolute favorite. I love old photos, and, like, she just had such amazing hair. She still has amazing hair.

But let me pull up this next article that I would like to show you guys because I'm not gonna sit here at this old this whole thing. I'm just not going to.

I don't need to. However, I am going to drop the link in the chat. That way no one's accusing me of, making because that's a really old news article. And you guys can tell how much attention I pay because I didn't realize that it was Mike Grinder's current wife that's being interviewed in this article. But, at at the end of the day, it's really neither here nor there.

So I am simply going to read the parts talk about this because this is a sensitive topic, but it is very important. The defectors say Sea Org members were repeatedly beaten by the church's chairman, David Miscavige, often during planning meetings, pressured to have abortions. Pressured being the key word. I'm sorry, but there is a difference. I would agree.

Forced to work without sleep on little pay and held incommunicado if they wanted to leave. The church says the defectors are lying. You guys already know, I think, that, the church is a criminal organization.

So, specifically, right here, this is the Colebrands. They went back to I'm not reading their whole story, guys, so don't get it twisted.

That's not what what's happening. The Kolbrands went back to work for the church in LA, but miss Kolbrands found the atmosphere so oppressive, the staff members so miserable, that she likened it to living under martial law, and again resolved to leave.

So what did she do?

She intentionally conceived a child.

She knew that the Sea Org did not allow its members to have children, and she had known women who were removed when they refused to have abortions.

So she waited until her pregnancy had almost reached the end of the first trimester to inform her superiors.

It still took two months before the church let the coal brands go in 02/2006 and not before making them sign affidavits. And here is commentary from mister Headley who wrote a book about his experiences and was suing the church for back wages saying that over fifteen years his salary salary averaged out to 39¢ an hour. His wife, who said the church coerced her into having two abortions, has also filed a suit.

The couple now have two small children.

The church acknowledges that Sea Org members are not allowed to have babies, but denies that it pressures people into having abortions. Obviously, I don't believe what the church says whatsoever. I don't think that, anyone should, quite frankly. But I also think that it's very bizarre that, in my opinion, from certain parties, pressure versus forced. Those are two very different things.

And I'm not here to be like, oh, like words or weapons. I don't play that game. It's the same thing as like people calling me a Nazi. I don't really care. Okay?

It is what it is. It just shows that you're dumb. I don't have to be nice about it. But at the end of the day, there is a difference between being pressured and being forced, and there is. And I do think and this is just my opinion.

I'm allowed to have it. I I think that there should be some clarification. Because just like Virginia stated in her own way, you can't blame all of your problems on l Ron Hubbard or David Miscavige. You just can't. I can't imagine how uncomfortable that would be or how miserable that would be or how scary that would be, working in the sea org, being in Scientology, and being pregnant, and knowing what you know that they're going to give you a really hard time, and they might scare the crap out of you.

Right? I'm not denying that, And I don't think that Virginia was denying that either. However, there is a difference, and there is. And I'm not here calling anyone a liar, but I am straight up telling people my opinion, which is allowed, and it is allowed. This is gonna seem like super ungracious of me, but let's be real.

Nobody's been gracious with me. Right?

So, if you were pressured, and I don't doubt that that was scary, but you say that you were forced.

You're a coward. Own your stuff.

Own it. Own it.

If you survived getting out of that of whatever you wanna call it, a cult, a religion, a church, I don't care what you call it. People wanna sit here and play word games. Be proud that you left, but own it.

Because just like Virginia stated, Mike Rinder was running the show back then. Yeah? So why why don't we have Rinder running around owning reportedly, supposedly, apparently, whatever. Why don't we have him running around owning it? Doesn't really make sense to me.

But what do I know? Right? We're just supposed to take everybody at their word. We're not allowed to question anything, and that doesn't make any sense to me.

Now I am going to show you guys this clip from Joe Rogan, because, you know, little miss, whatever, claw nails, you know, she she says the same thing.

So in my opinion, whatever you're gonna hear for yourself. It's like plan other than you're gonna stop hurting people. People don't say they were hurt and molested. They don't go to go on to say, I was coerced into getting an abortion. Used.

I was sexually molested. I I allowed to happen. These things Too bad. You can come and see the time stamps. It is what it is.

But seriously, because there's there's a lot of people I'm sorry. I'm not gonna name names. There are a lot of people out there that have said that they were forced. There are. And I'm I'm not sitting here calling anybody a liar, but, yes.

Brad Conley, words matter, and definitions matter. Yeah? And, again, mister Mike Rinder, allegedly, supposedly, whatever, you know, if he was running the show.

If mister Rinder, as head of OSA, operation or office of special affairs, whatever. If he was forcing women to get abortions, and by forcing, I mean, like, holding them down and drugging them as Virginia explained because that is what it would would require, why isn't he in jail?

I'm just asking questions. I'm not the law. I'm just asking a valid question because to me, that sounds like a criminal, and I just don't understand why people state specifically that the McClaughrys deserve to be homeless, that they've burned their bridges.

Do you see does this give you a really good example of what the burnt bridge is? Because I hope that everybody gets, excuse my language, the fucking point by now because I don't know how else to drive at home because I get that there are some men out here that are, like, way too emotional, but they also, like, can't define certain words, so I don't really care about that.

But as far as the women who wanna try to come at me, that's a bridge that is a righteous anger to burn down, in my opinion. Hell, yeah. Light it up. Pour the gasoline on it and walk away. I don't see anybody else calling out mister Rinder.

I see everybody else, painting him as the good guy. Right?

And people funding his medical bills. Yeah? Apparently, supposedly, allegedly, whatever, because these people are all, like, stupid litigation happy.

And even though they say that the church is litigation happy, which is why I say that the ex movement is literally, in my opinion, just a coup d'etat against mister Miscavige. It's really nothing different. But that's just my 2¢. That's really all I came on here to show you guys today. Seriously.

Because I seriously think that these are things that people should consider. They did. They burnt the bridge to the lies.

And if you're watching this on the replay, if you have no idea who the McClaughrys are, please, you know, look them up.

See what people say because these are two elderly people who blew on the church, real whistleblowers.

Right? Because, again, I tell people all the time, look at the history of actual whistleblowing. What happens? Because if you're under some sort of disillusion that all of a sudden this is different, I disagree. That's not how life works.

That's not how history works. And that's why we step back in my research and we look at the grand picture. Right? What's going on as a whole? That way it kind of grounds everybody a little bit, and it also helps me not become, like, too focused in on a certain topic.

However, in the grand scheme of things, especially with an organization as corrupt as the Church of Scientology because it is a criminal organization, you have two people. Two. Two. The McClaughrys that in lockstep. Every single ex scientologist that you reach out to who's involved with SPTV who, you know, sings the praises of Mike Rinder and Leah Remini and, who else?

Claire Headley and, what's her old man's name? Mark Headley. I don't know. Who else? Some of them I don't even want a name because it's just like whatever.

All these people who are out here fighting a billion dollar cult. Right? Aaron Smith Levin fighting a billion dollar cult. Yeah? It's a great day to not be in a cult.

I don't know because I grew up in a cult. I don't know. I have amnesia. Right?

Because all of a sudden certain people are saying that they don't remember now things from the time of, mister Masterson doing what he got away with.

Yeah? And it's really fascinating. I'm not I'm probably not gonna do it on my channel because, you know, it was Zero Dark Tony that was named in, miss Leah Remini's injunction. Whether the ex Scientology community wants to admit it or not, you can literally read it. Yeah.

Technically, it was, missus Headley that named him. But I read through all of those court records and all of these allegations of, well, we're being stalked. And if somebody looks at you sideways or if somebody follows you down the highway, two turns too many, it's definitely Osa. Right? But you can't question them because Scientology is way above people's heads, but they grew up in a cult and they have no accountability.

Half of the stuff in that court, like those court filings, all of that stuff listed with it says based on belief and some evidence. How does that hold up in reality for anybody? Because, again, bringing it back to reality as far as whistleblowing goes, actual whistleblowing, did Gary Webb get to go on TV and accept an award for what he exposed? Did he? Do you even know who Gary Webb is?

What about Gary Caridori and his child who were murdered? Because some people don't even know who Gary Caridore is. Google it. He and his very young child were murdered. Period.

Danny Caselaro also murdered. And most people don't even know who they are, and it's insulting. It is insulting because that's what real whistleblowing is. It's not going up on TV, on a stage, and accepting an award, and going on Joe Rogan, which is a total limited hangout. Sorry.

Hate to break it to you. It is. Where you're sitting there and you're saying that you're taking it down.

You're taking down the cult. No.

You're not. No. You're not. You're literally not. Because why is Virginia's experience not valid?

Seriously. Why does her experience not count? Is it because she's literally calling out Mike Rinder for being involved in this type of activity against female members of the c org? Well, maybe. Maybe.

But I guess, a lot of people have a price. Right? And that's what it seems like to me is that a lot of people have a price. Guess what? I don't.

I've made that very clear. I don't have a price. I'm here for the truth, and I I don't even know. This is an ugly subject. But at the end of the day here.

You know what? Let's let's drive the point home. Hold on. We're gonna drive this point home because I feel like doing it. Because I'm gonna drop in this other link in a second.

I have no idea who bought me some coffees last night. God bless you. Thank you so much. Very thoughtful. I'm not being facetious.

I mean it. But they sent me some fascinating information, and I do mean fascinating. And it was about, Claire Headley. She's technically a public figure. Right?

So, eventually, I'll dig into it, but I am gonna drop one of the blogs that they sent me because I do find it very fascinating. That way you guys can see, you know, this isn't, maybe it is.

Maybe it is speculation on my part in regards to, the master craft that these individuals do have. And they do because all they do is talk about their training and their time in the church, and, you know, they talk in the church language. And some people in the chat pretend that they understand what they're saying, but most people really don't.

And if they were really trying to, quote, unquote, leave this corrupt billion dollar cult, well, you would think that they would try to, you know, sort of break the habit. Right? But what do I know? Maybe I maybe I don't know what I'm talking about, and maybe I'm speaking out of turn. But these people talk about how well trained they are on certain things, and so you guys are gonna get to see this blog yourself where it talks about their training.

But in the grand scheme of things of whistleblowing and mister Rinder Mister Rinder, who would be in charge of some of these things, who documents, hours of other channels talking about interviews with him. Right? This isn't a secret. And it's not. Are those real whistleblowers?

Where are they at? They're at the these people are not in the same category as Gary Webb, as Gary Caridori, or as Danny Castellaro. It is insulting, and it is insulting. But that's just my 2¢. I'm allowed to have an opinion.

Do whatever you want. File an injunction. Try to shut me up. I don't care. And I don't care.

Because today, specifically, I have finally tracked down the financial conduit of the Process Church of the Final Judgment. And surprise. Even though the ex Scientology community, including some of the individuals that I've shown you photos of, They wanna pretend that Hubbard wasn't an intelligence asset and that, he was just a bumbling buffoon that just happened to be moving around the world just like an intelligence operative. Just a total coincidence. But anybody that says that they were, that he is an intelligence operative.

These people think that I'm a crazy conspiracy theorist, that Mike and Virginia are crazy conspiracy theorists, and anybody who watches my show who, you know, also believes that Hubbard was an intelligence operative because to normal people who have a grasp of history and especially a knowledge of intelligence history as a whole, it's very obvious.

Right? But I'm not here trying to, run cover for Hubbard. Yeah? So interestingly enough, their money is in one of the many places that Alvaro Hubbard was moving money when he was doing some spooky travels.

Right? Because I know that there's, you know, mister Jeffrey Augustine who says that, well, Hubbard didn't have boats. Didn't have enough boats. There's no way that he could work for the CIA. Okay, bro.

Seriously. Stop trying. In my opinion, sorry. Stop trying.

You should probably find another hobby or another job because you're doing a really terrible job at explaining the logic or the reasoning for why l Ron Hubbard would not be an intelligence asset, and you are sorely mistaken.

You're sorely mistaken.

But now that I have found the funding, specifically, the old funding, the OG funding because you guys remember, we talked about doubleies at the beginning of those court records, and I'm like, what the hell is doubleies? You look it up everywhere, can't find it. I'm on the phone with Virginia. We're like, let's just look where Hubbard was moving money around that time.

There it is. And I screamed. You I was like, Virginia, I found it. Oh my god. It's W's.

I was so excited. I was like, I've been looking for this. I was embarrassed that I had spent probably a total of two days, like, full days over the past, like, two months looking for that, but I found it. So it's real.

And now I get to work on tracing the money.

The trail is cold right now, but guess what? I'm one step closer. One step closer. Because once we get the money, then we get to see where we're at now. Because eventually, we're gonna get to the best friends, the animal charity that Leah Remini has listed on her website as an approved pet charity.

And she does not respond to the animal rights groups on Twitter because, you know, her clawed nails and her, you know, East Coast accent and whatever, and she thinks that she's tough. I would highly encourage anybody who has not watched that interview with Joe Rogan to go and watch it. It kinda feels like she's auditing him, and it's pretty intense because she just, like, keeps repeating questions. Like, Joe, what are you not getting? Joe, what are you not getting?

Hitting with her nails. It's quite fascinating. Sort of feels like my experience with an ex scientologist not that long ago that I know many of you saw go down on Twitter. So this is the last link I am going to drop in. I have no idea who sent that to me.

That was one of the links that was sent to me from the very kind person who sent me coffees last night. And that is specifically the whole, like, training manual on how these people are trained to lie. I'm not judge, jury, and executioner.

I'm not here to say that people don't deserve forgiveness or redemption because I think that everybody does. But in order to get to that point, that means being honest with people.

And if you're not going to be honest or you're going to whitewash, your involvement in certain things or villainize people who are calling out everybody and who were transparent.

You know what I mean, with Mike and Virginia, then it doesn't really seem like you're seeking redemption. It seems like you're seeking a free pass. Seems like you're seeking a free pass and a get out of jail free card.

Because, again, I would ask specifically if mister Rinder was involved in those things, allegedly, supposedly, then why the hell is he not in jail?

And how can those women sit next to him and, you know, just everybody fawn over him and throw money at him? I think it's disgusting. And quite frankly, for the women that do that, shame on you.

You guys are not here for victims, in my opinion. You guys are not here for women.

But it does seem quite frankly like, Scientology as a whole really doesn't care about women or children.

And, also, I would like to remind everybody as an ending note because this is all that I'm going to talk about today. If you have time, whatever, you've looked at my Twitter, I've talked about the lack of mention of Hebrew Gensch specifically in Leah Remini's filings that was uploaded by deadline. I'm being so particular because, you know, this group is very litigation happy, whatever. I would like to know where the hell Heber Jench is.

I'm gonna keep asking that, and I hope that other people start asking too. Because the LDS whistleblower that I've been working with that I've talked to you guys about, they found me Heber's yearbook. And it's, like, so sweet. And I've never seen Heber that young before. And it's just and he looks so promising.

I think he was, like, a sophomore or a junior in college, and it's just very sad. It's very sad. But again, why are you guys not taking the church at their word about Shelley Miscavige, but taking them at their word about Hebrew Gensh while you guys run around doing this elder abuse campaign, unless you guys know something that the public does not, which in my opinion seems to be the case? Because some of us would like to know where Heber Jench is seriously.

And I don't care what his, ex wife says because I don't think that she's a trustworthy person whatsoever.

I think it's super crazy that people wanna take a pair of pennies from her at all when there's literally another creator out here who has talked about how this woman had tried to, like, call the cops on him and claim elder abuse because they went on YouTube and made a video about how she was being psychologically abusive, allegedly, supposedly, reportedly, and was overcharging for auditing, allegedly, supposedly, reportedly. And this was, like, within the past couple of years. And there are screenshots in there that you can see where that woman is talking about Virginia and directing that young man to not look at Mike and Virginia's blog.

> [Virginia note: the woman Dana is talking about is Karen de la Carriere. See more about her.]

That damn blog. Gets you every time, doesn't it?
